LOGLINE

After an inquisitive young girl is told that her recently deceased dad is now an ancestor spirit that she can feel whenever she needs, she tries to find his spirit before her first day of kindergarten.

SYNOPSIS

In "Finding JaMia's Spirit," we follow the journey of JaMia, a curious and optimistic 5-year-old girl. After the loss of her father, JaMia grapples with the concept of him being in a "better place" and feeling abandoned right before her first day of kindergarten. With the guidance of her wise grandmother, Gam Gam, JaMia embarks on a search for her father's ancestor spirit. Through a series of heartwarming moments with her mother, Denise, and flashbacks of her father, JaMia discovers that her father's spirit is always with her, providing comfort and strength.

Director's Statement

My dad died from stomach cancer when I was 11. When I think back on it now, sometimes his death felt sudden, and other times it felt long and painful, but overall, it was a difficult loss. One of the things I absolutely hated was how every offer of condolence I received was that my dad “was in a better place.” Even at 11, I could not understand why my dad would willingly go to this “better place” and leave me, “his baby girl” behind. Practically, I knew what folks meant, but I didn’t understand why those were the chosen words of sympathy.

This was my inspiration for “Finding JaMia’s Spirit.” I wanted to rethink how we communicate grief to kids and how they interpret and process loss and healing. This is a story that will resonate with families or anyone who has experienced loss, but particularly younger kids who might have a hard time understanding loss and need help with processing grief and moving towards healing.

Ashli Auguillard (AKA Ashli with an “i”) is an actor from the small town of Breaux Bridge, Louisiana. She’s proudly the oldest of six siblings, and her hobbies include cooking, planting, and escape room games!

Ashli's acting journey started at the age of 11, where she landed a role in her first play, 'The Miser.' After attending LSU, Ashli made the leap to California in 2014 to pursue a full time acting career. You can find her shooting automatic rifles in the latest season of The Rookie and The Rookie Feds, guest starring across Nathan Fillion and Niecy Nash. She stands out as a new face on HBO’s Curb Your Enthusiasm, Season 11, holding her own with the likes of Larry David, Lucy Liu, and other heavy hitters. She also graces the screen in guest-starring and recurring roles on USA Network, the Hallmark Channel, Facebook Watch, Screambox TV.

Ashli also has plans to give back, but she isn't waiting for fame to make change. As CEO and cofounder of Oyo Market, an e-commerce platform for black owned products, she is already amplifying underrepresented communities in business. She hopes to expand her philanthropy as she rises, with a special and relatable place in her heart for impoverished black youth and the homeless community.

Cesar Reyes

Production Designer

Cesar Reyes graduated from Cal State University Northridge with a degree in Film Production, specializing in Editing. Growing up in Lima, Peru, from a young age, Cesar developed a keen interest in visual arts through participation in numerous plays and folkloric dances. Upon arriving in the U.S., Cesar took on a variety of jobs, which not only helped him acquire practical skills but also instilled in him the importance of teamwork.

Drawing on his artistic background, Cesar contributed to various student films in the art department. He served as an art director for Chloe, contributed graphics and set design to Amal, and took on the role of Production Designer for Fix, El Mozote, Home, and Hot Latin Nights at the Granada. Supported by his family, fueled by his passion for films, and driven by his aspiration to direct, Cesar continues to pursue his dream relentlessly.

Wynton Payne

Editor

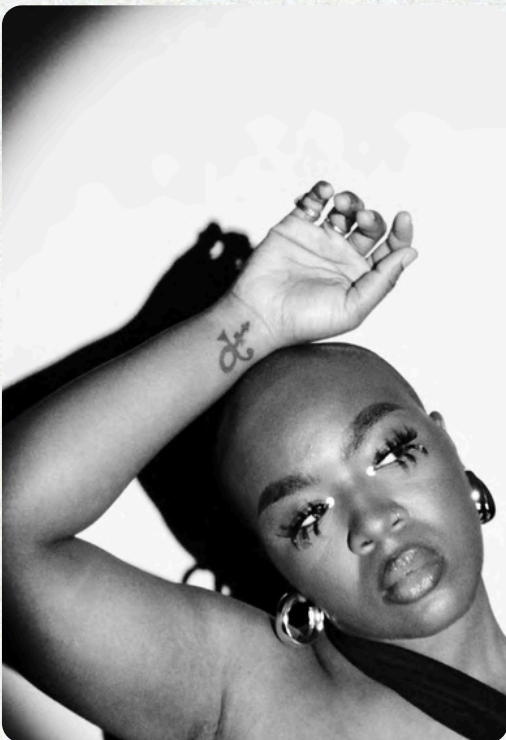

For over a decade, Wynton has dedicated himself to the art of storytelling as a film and TV editor. Hailing from Chicago, his diverse journey through a myriad of genres has made a creative impact on independent endeavors and high-profile studio projects alike. Collaborating with industry giants such as Disney, Warner Bros., Lionsgate, Netflix, and Amazon Studios, Wynton has contributed to narratives that captivate and resonate deeply with audiences.

A notable highlight is Wynton's work on The Mysterious Benedict Society, Season Two, for Disney+, where his natural handling of comedy, adventure, family, and mystery displays his adaptability and keen attention to narrative detail. His talent for merging these genres into a cohesive and compelling story speaks to his hard work and showcases his versatility.

Vahn Black

Composer and Vocalist

Born and raised in Detroit, Vahn Black grew up in a melting pot of music. This aided in Black cultivating her soul-charged, jazz infused sound, marrying her reverence for vocalists like Sarah Vaughn with her love of producers like J Dilla.

Black has lent her artistry to various art mediums from short films to interactive performance art. In 2023 Black was selected to perform at NPR's Tiny Desk on the Road Tour stop in Atlanta. She has performed as an opening acts for Anthony Hamilton, Chrisette Michelle, Elle Varner, and soul legends Frankie Beverly and Maze.

Black's latest work, Petrichor: The Joy of Gladys Bentley, is the first of a three part series that centers the story of Blues singer Gladys Bentley as told in the 1952 article I Am a Woman Again.

Bria Adams

Music Supervisor

Bria Adams (Douglasville, GA) is a creative, diligent, and forward-focused talent. After earning her BA in from Spelman College, Bria became a mentee of the inaugural cohort of She Is The Music's Connect TogetHER program. The experience led to her first role in entertainment as an Executive Assistant to the Senior VP of TV Music for Disney Television Studios. In 2024, Bria began the next leg of her creative journey by bringing her talents to the Raedio division of Issa Rae's Hoorae Media.

Bria aims to champion artists by producing dynamic pairings between music and picture in serving as the Music Supervisor for short films such as A Homecoming I'll Remember and Finding JaMia's Spirit. She is a member of She Is The Music, the Guild of Music Supervisors, and the founder of Building Brilliance, an initiative to equip, prepare, and usher young women into adulthood.

Sharee Silerio

Unit Production Manager

Sharee Silerio (St. Louis, MO) is a filmmaker who tells coming-of-age, self-discovery, and real-life stories where Black women and girls feel seen, heard, loved, and affirmed. Her film credits include projects on Netflix, Oxygen, Comedy Central, MTV, Prime Video and more. An enthusiastic student of life, Sharee has an MA in media communications from Webster University as well as a BA in communication with a film studies certificate from St. Louis University.

Sharee's latest work is a celebrated short doc, Black Girl, Bleu, born from her personal challenges with mental health after the unexpected passing of her favorite uncle. The film has won multiple awards including Outstanding Special Programming and Audience Choice for Best Documentary Short. Sharee currently lives with her husband aka high school sweetheart in Los Angeles, CA.
